

Voluntary Departure Verification

An alien, who was granted voluntary departure from the United States, is requested to report his/her departure status to a Department of Homeland Security-Homeland Security Investigations (DHS-HSI) representative through submission of the Voluntary Departure Order (G-146, I-392, or I-210).

To apply for verification of voluntary departure, the applicant is required to send a document package via an Embassy approved courier company, addressed to:

DHS/HSI	서울시 종로구 세종대로 188
U.S. Embassy Seoul	주한미국대사관
188 Sejong-daero, Jongno-gu,	국토안보부 국토안보수사국 (DHS/HSI)
Seoul, Korea	(우편번호: 03141)
03141

Two courier companies provide service to and from the Embassy:

- Ilyang (1588-0002, <http://www.ilyanglogis.com/product/visa.asp>)
- Hanjin (1588-0011, <https://www.hanjin.co.kr>)

When you apply, you should provide the following documents and information for this process:

- Completed G-146, I-392 or I-210 Form;
- Copies of your passports (including entry/exit stamped page if available);
- Your airline issued boarding pass when you left the U.S.;
- I-94 (the Arrival/Departure record) if available;
- Contact Form

Upon receipt of your documents, they will be reviewed, and you will be contacted for an interview and verification of identity. Interviews are scheduled every Tuesday of the week at the Annex of U.S. Embassy, Seoul. The normal processing time for departure verification is five working days or longer.

Should you have any question for this, please contact HSI via e-mail hsiseoul@state.gov.
